OUR PEACE TERMS.

We print below the peace terms as set forth by President Wilson. Peace is in sight although no one can tell whether it will be a Christmas present to the world, or whether its coming will be delayed till the summer of 1920. But peace is now only a few months away. This being the case our peace proposals should be studied and understood by all our citizens. We advise that a copy of these be kept for ready reference. They are summarized as follows:

1. Open covenants of peace, no private international understandings of any kind.

2. Absolute freedom of navigation upon the seas, outside territorial waters, in peace and in war, except as closed in whole by international action to enforce international covenants.

3. Removal of all economic barriers and establishment of equality of trade conditions among all Nations consenting to the peace and associated for its maintenance.

4. Adequate guarantees that National armaments will be reduced.

5. A free open-minded and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims, based upon the interests of the population concerned and the equitable claims of the Government.

6. Evacuation of all Russian territory and such settlement of all questions affecting Russia as will secure the best and freest co-operation of the other Nations of the world in obtaining for her unhindered and unembarrassed opportunity for independent determination of her own political development and National policy.

7. Belgium must be evacuated and restored, without any attempt to limit her sovereignty.

8. All French territory should be freed and the invaded portions restored, and the wrong done to France by Prussia in 1871 in the matter of Alsace-Lorraine should be righted.

9. A readjustment of the frontiers of Italy should be effected along clearly recognized lines of nationality.

10. The peoples of Austria-Hungary should be accorded the freest opportunity of autonomous development.

11. Rumania, Serbia, etc., should be evacuated; occupied territories restored, Serbia accorded free access to the sea and the relations of the several Balkan States to one another determined along historically established lines.

12. The Turkish portions of the Ottoman Empire should be assured a secure sovereignty, but the other nationalities now under Turkish rule should be assured an undoubted security of life and unmolested opportunity of autonomous development, and the Dardanelles should be permanently opened as a free passage.

13. An independent Polish State should be erected which should include the territories inhabited by indisputably Polish populations, which should be assured a free and secure access to the sea.

14. A general association of Nations must be formed to afford mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small States alike.

We feel sure that the above propositions, with the exception of Nos. 3 and 5, will be approved by all. In the case of No. 3, we confess that we do not know just what the President means when he says, "Removal of all economic barriers." The protective tariff is an economic barrier protecting our workers and our business from the influx of foreign made goods. If, in his third peace plank the president means free-trade, we think our people will protest. If the phrase means that goods made in Germany shall not be barred from England, France and the United States because of the war, and by reason of hatred of Germany nobody will seriously object. While we do not condemn the statement without a hearing, we would like to know just what plank No. 3 means.

Plank No. 5 deals with the colonial question. Germany has lost her colonies by conquest. The question will be, when peace is made, what shall be done with these? The President says the adjustment should be based upon the interests of the population concerned. That is sound doctrine. He then adds: "And the equitable claims of the Government." What government? Not ours, because we have acquired no German colonies by conquest. The meaning here is not clear. With these two exceptions it seems to us that the President has stated our peace terms vigorously and well, and in terms which do honor to him and to the nation. Germany would like to refer the whole question of peace to a tribunal made up of diplomats from the neutral nations. But that cannot be. Germany will be driven to surrender in the open field or she will accept the terms set forth by the President of the United States, whom our allied powers have signally honored by making him their spokesman in diplomacy. Those terms have been supplemented by the statement that unconditional surrender must precede the settlement of the negotiations for the peace treaty. Germany knows now that the people of the United States are a conquering people and when necessary are also a dominant people.

MAKE GERMANY PAY.

Cambrai, Antientieres, Donai, St. Quentin and Lens have been plundered, and set on fire. Explosion of mines have destroyed their industrial plants and the people, men, women and children, thousands of helpless non-combatants, have been bereft of their homes and means of earning money. This ruthlessness by a defeated and retreating army was not a military necessity but was malicious and revengeful. These cities had each a population of from 20,000 to 30,000. They were beautiful cities and some of them were in existence in the days of Caesar. Germany always a wretch, when overpowered, is a coward and a ruffian, and whether beaten or victorious is always a brute. She is a liar, a thief, a

WAS TORTURED FOR TEN YEARS

With Terrible Stomach Trouble Until She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

MRS. F. S. STOLZ

8807 Sacto Ave., Sacramento, Cal.
"I had Stomach Trouble for 10 years, which became so bad that I got Stomach Cramps two or three times a week."

After years of terrible torture, I read about 'Fruit-a-tives' or Fruit Liver Tablets, and sent for a trial box and wrote that it was the last remedy I would use—if 'Fruit-a-tives' did not help me, I would die.

After taking the trial box, I felt better, so kept on taking 'Fruit-a-tives' for nearly a year, and am thankful to say 'Fruit-a-tives' saved my life.

It also saved a friend from an operation for Stomach Trouble, after he had given up all hope of getting well."

ravisher and a million times a murderer. Now that she sees that her defeat is certain she asks for a League of Nations.

She wants to dicker for favorable terms of peace. She even has the assurance to demand that her representatives shall sit at the peace table on equal footing with those of the peoples whom she has outraged. She may as well understand that her red-handed attack upon the world is a failure and that for her cruelty and devastation she must pay, measure for measure, heaped up and running over.

But how can she do this? The nation and the masses of the people are bankrupt. They must restore Belgium, not only as to her territory but as to her financial losses. To do this will tax Germany to the limit of her ability for many years. Indemnities Germany must certainly pay to the extent of keeping her poor for at least two generations. And this is not enough either of punishment or justice. It has been suggested that as many German cities be destroyed as their vandalism has leveled by the torch and mine. This suggestion has met with much favor, but it seems to us that we should not thus descend to the German level. The late peace proposals which they offer provide that their colonies shall be restored to them. To this we say no. Let them go to England, France and Italy as indemnity. Drive Germany out of Russia and give that country access to and from the sea through the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus. Restore Alsace-Lorraine to France from whom it was taken by the national highwayman, who for years has been prowling for victims in Europe, Asia and Africa. Then if the debt of the Germans has not been paid, take Kiel, the naval base, the canal which leads thence to the sea and all the German territory north of the canal which is, and otherwise will continue to be a menace to Denmark. If this is not enough make the Rhine the western boundary of Germany. That insane and bloodthirsty nation must be made to pay for the havoc and slaughter which she has wrought. Not only must she pay, but she must be so punished that she will never again, with sword and torch, run amuck in Europe or anywhere else.

COOTIES.

We have just been reading a sheet issued weekly from the Office of Information of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The heading in big type is: "What the Department of Agriculture is Doing." The sheet carries three columns of printed matter and the columns are the same length as those of the Journal. If the U. S. Department of Agriculture is doing anything which is of benefit to the farmers, or is doing anything to justify its existence, this sheet does not mention it. The prize article in the issue now under consideration is about the "cootie," otherwise known as the body louse. The article states that an entomologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has just completed experiments which "support the belief that the fecundity of the body louse has been greatly underestimated." We were curious to know something more about these "experiments which support this belief," and found that the article goes on to state that the investigating Professor domiciled a male and a female cootie on his wrist and observed them closely and he was rewarded by finding that in 25 days the female deposited 276 eggs—an average of 11 a day—and that in one period of 24 hours she laid 14 eggs. The period of development from the egg to the adult egg laying period was only 16 days. This country is at war. It is petty larceny from the people to allow a high salaried officer to spend several weeks in settling the reproductive capacity of two lice. Use money for such a purpose would be infeasible in time of peace and is much worse just now. This performance will in no way increase the production of food. It is or should be the work of our Agricultural Department to justify its existence by the advancement and development of the business interests and practical knowledge of the farmers. If we have the right idea about this, the cootie investigation was discursive and silly. It was a waste of man power, a waste of money and a waste of paper and printing.

The federal investigation into the fish business at Boston, which has been in progress several months, was extended to Portland when the taking of testimony was begun to determine the status of Portland fish dealers in their relations with the New England fish exchange.

Before the investigation had been going on two weeks it was shown that the people were being robbed outrageously. There is a possibility that the robbers will all have died a natural death before the investigation is concluded.

We publish this week the record made by our old 2d Maine regiment which was with Pershing in Mexico and is now with him in France. This regiment is now the 103d U. S. Infantry and always has been an honor to our State. The overseas record is brought down to about the middle of September. We are personally acquainted with the men who prepared this history and can assure our readers that the statements made are true.

American colors are being brought to the notice of the Germans, who considered that they led the world in dyes. They are being convinced that our red, white and blue are fast colors and will not run.

CHEERING UP THE WOUNDED

Mrs. Walter Hines Page, wife of the former ambassador to Great Britain and a member of the American Red Cross, is here shown at the bedside of a wounded American soldier in England. American women regularly visit the American wounded in base hospitals and more than 600 have already been enrolled in the "care committee" of the Red Cross.

Breathe Hyomei for Two Minutes and Stuffed Up Head Will Get Relief.

If you want to get relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from an irritating cough in the shortest time breathe Hyomei.

It will clean out your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely. Hyomei will end a cold in one day, it will relieve you of disgusting snuffles, hawking, spitting and offensive breath in a week.

Hyomei is made chiefly from a soothing, healing germ killing antiseptic, that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia where catarrh, asthma and consumption were never known to exist. Hyomei is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A complete Hyomei outfit, including inhaler and one bottle of Hyomei, costs but little at druggists everywhere and at A. A. Howes & Co.'s. If you already own an inhaler you can get an extra bottle of Hyomei at druggists.

Another Shipyard.

Permits have been granted by the government and the charter issued to a group of Lynn and Waldoboro men for the Medomak Shipbuilding Co., to be located at Waldoboro, on the Medomak River, in the old shipyard where the well known Palmer fleet of five-masters were built, and where the famous Governor Ames was launched. The yards have been owned by one family since 1798, and the present owner, A. R. Reed, is the last of the family. The company is capitalized at $200,000 and will begin work at once. Capt. Millard F. Wade, himself a well-known ship master, being president. The company has also been given permission by the government to take over the Morse shipyards at Friendship, about 10 miles distant from the Waldoboro yards.

AUGUSTA, ME., Oct. 8. The first permit to cut ship timber on one of the public lots of the State has been given by the State Forestry Department to H. M. Beane of Camden. The lot is No. 39 in Elliottville plantation in Piscataquis county and enough timber is being taken out to build two vessels.

The timber is all being hewn and squared on the spot, with the result that a large lot of firewood has been accumulated. The Forestry Department will take some means of disposing of this firewood to the people.

The record price for labor appears to have been reached at Caribou when a 14-year-old boy is paid $6 a day and board for picking potatoes on one of the large farms there, with more than 100 hands at work. The total payroll on that farm is about $800 a day, some of the professional pickers who work by the barrel and put in long hours making $15 a day. One woman has been making from $5 to $6 a day since the season began.

Odd Fellow Convention Postponed.

Dr. H. J. Toward, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Maine, made the announcement Monday evening that the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows which was scheduled to be held in Portland Oct. 16th had been postponed to Nov. 13th. The Rebekah Assembly of Maine has been postponed from Oct. 15th to Nov. 12th. This will be interesting news to Odd Fellows and Rebekahs all over the State as there has been speculation as to the possible change in the dates. The reason for the postponement is the prevailing epidemic throughout the State, and it is hoped that at the future dates the conditions will be such that the meetings may be held.

Fish and Game.

Willis E. Parsons, commissioner of inland fisheries and game, has just returned from an inspection tour on the West Branch and in the Katahdin region, including a climb to the top of that king of mountains in Maine, and reports game conditions very good. Deer are quite plentiful and ruffed grouse are found in much larger quantity than at any time for several years. As the season was just beginning, the birds were very tame and would frequently stand in the ditch, without flying, while the automobile went by.

It was a good spring for hatching and rearing young birds, and what was feared last year, that partridge were disappearing and a close time would have to be put on ruffed grouse for a term of years, will not be necessary. There are plenty in the big woods, and if hunting with automobile could be prevented out in the settlements and along the highways that reach into the wilderness, they would be more plentiful in the incorporated towns.

This splendid game bird has to make a desperate struggle for existence, and with bob-cats, foxes, owls and even house cats left in the woods at lumber camps, it is surprising that as many survive as do, but probably one-half of the birds that hatch are destroyed by some of the above named enemies.

The University of Maine doesn't seem like the same old place to the returning upper class men, what few there are. The dozen fraternity houses have been transformed into barracks and are packed full of freshmen. All the superfluous furnishings, decorations and relics have been packed away and the identity as fraternity houses lost for the present, except by name.

The dormitories are packed full of men and the gymnasium is a mess hall. It is all army life now with more than 700 boys in the Student's Training Corps, of whom 50 will be wearing navy uniforms. In addition there will be about 200 enlistees men in a training detachment, not university students, besides civilian students and about 300 girls.

The girls have two houses to themselves as usual and the non-military students have separate quarters. Altogether there are nearly 1500 people in the university colony, and practically all under a two weeks' quarantine just now. Every effort will be made to keep out influenza and not a case of the genuine disease has yet been reported.

Herbert Brockway of Exeter recently drove a fine lot of beef cattle through Garland, numbering 68 and consisting mostly of Hereford steers and oxen, for the use of the Great Northern Paper Co. They were to be taken to Moosehead lake, to be conveyed by water to Lily Bay and then driven to the Grant farm where they will be dressed for their consumers and distributed.

Mrs. Harold M. Sewell has turned over her beautiful home at 935 Washington street, Bath, to the Red Cross for the benefit of out of town nurses brought here by the grip epidemic. There are already three physicians there and a half dozen nurses and more of each expected. The nurses will occupy the main house and the physicians the rooms in the ell.

Too Much Law.

Jacob Castle, superintendent of the city poor farm in Augusta was arraigned before Judge Lancaster of the municipal court on the charge of illegally having in his possession six skunk skins and for setting traps without any name on them. The bill penalty would have been a fine and costs amounting to $102.80, but Judge Lancaster made it $20 and costs. Supt. Castle, in defense, said the skunks had killed 103 chickens and eaten a large section of his corn.

Women's Club Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the Maine Federation of Women's clubs, scheduled for Oct. 21-22 in Augusta, has been postponed because of the epidemic. Mrs. Myrtle L. T. White of Presque Isle, president of the Federation, writes: "No date for the meeting, of course, can now be fixed but we shall have to take our turn with other postponed meetings."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

LACK OF SHIPS CONTINUES

With increased shipbuilding this year it was hoped that the surplus stocks of wheat, meat and sugar of Australia, Argentina, India and Java might be available to the Allies, thus reducing the call upon the stock of this country and Canada.

"No relief can be expected however from this quarter at least for another year," says the Food Administration. "The need of greatly increased tonnage to transport 250,000 men per month and the supplies and munitions for our now vast army and for the Allies will more than exceed the gain in shipbuilding and decrease in submarine sinkings. The shipping situation instead of being relieved will become increasingly difficult."

"It is therefore necessary to look to the Northern hemisphere alone for Allied food and supplies. That means the United States and Canada. The Canadian crop will not permit of increased shipments from that source. The United States must therefore continue to be the Allies' main source of supply."

You can use the recommended remedy that is sold in every drug store. It is called Doan's Kidney Pills. It is endorsed by the country and by your neighbors. Mrs. Anne L. ## GOOD CROP REPORT.

General improvement in crop prospects on Oct. 1st, as compared with a month ago, was shown by the Department of Agriculture's monthly report.

Corn, which had a big loss in prospective production as a result of unfavorable weather during July and August, improved during September to the extent of 46,000,000 bushels, and now gives prospect of a 2,717,775,000 bushel crop, which would be 441,000,000 bushels smaller than last year's production.

Spring wheat during September improved about 20,000,000 bushels, making a crop of 363,195,000 bushels, or 131,000,000 more than was produced last year. With this additional spring wheat, the total wheat crop, including the winter wheat, now promises to be 918,920,000 bushels, an amount that comes close to the billion bushel mark set by the Government last fall to meet the war needs of America and the Allies.

The indicated production of oats this year, based on Oct. 1st estimates, is 1,535,297,000 bushels, as compared with 1,587,286,000 bushels in 1917 and 1,251,337,000 in 1916.

Christmas Parcels.

Local Red Cross Chapter Gives Information Regarding Sending of Holiday Parcels to Men Abroad.

The families of men in service abroad have been longing for some means of making Christmas overseas as merry a one as the conditions permit. Sensing this desire, the War Department has decided that each man may receive from his family a Christmas package of standard size and approximately standard contents.

An arrangement has been completed between the War Department, Postoffice Department and the American Red Cross, whereby the latter has undertaken to cooperate in the preparation for mailing of these Christmas parcels. To simplify the execution of this plan a large number of especially manufactured cardboard cartons have been purchased which will be distributed through the Chapters to the relatives and friends of men in service overseas.

The amount of shipping space which has been set aside for the transportation of Christmas parcels will permit the sending of but one parcel to each man. To avoid any duplication and to make sure that each parcel will be correctly addressed, a Christmas Parcel label is now being issued to each man abroad.

Men will be instructed to mail this label home to some relative or friend, who, upon receiving it, will apply to the nearest Chapter, Branch or Auxiliary Headquarters, or such other places as may be designated by the Red Cross, where upon presentation of the Christmas Parcel label they will receive one carton, 3 by 4 by 9 inches in size.

The person receiving a carton may fill it with any combination of articles which will fit in it and which are not barred by the Postoffice department. When completely packed and ready to be mailed the weight of the carton must not exceed three pounds.

A parcel ready for shipment will then be presented at places designated where Red Cross representatives will examine the contents in order to exclude any articles barred by the Postoffice department from Christmas parcels, remove any notes or messages found among the contents, wrap, tie and weigh the parcel and place on the parcel the Christmas Parcel label received from abroad bearing the address of the men for whom it is intended. The person sending the parcel shall then, in the presence of a Red Cross representative, affix stamps sufficient to carry the parcel to Hoboken, N. J. The postal charges for Christmas packages shall be at the rate of fourth class or parcel post zone rate. The Red Cross inspection label certifying as to the complete inspection of the parcel by the Red Cross shall then be placed on the parcel. Parcels ready for mailing shall remain in the custody of the Red Cross until delivered by its representatives to the Postoffice authorities.

No Christmas parcels can be mailed later than Nov. 15, 1918. In the event of a Christmas parcel label lost no duplicate can be issued. This rule cannot be altered by anybody.

FOCH TO DECIDE ON ITALIAN DRIVE

Captain Beviene Explains Situation on the Southern Allied Front.

PRaises AMERICA'S EFFORTS.

Troops of His Fatherland Anxious to Strike Deadly Blow at Heart of Austria, Their Traditional Enemy.

New York.—Captain Giuseppe Beviene, Chief of the Italian Aeronautical Mission in this country, in an address at a luncheon in his honor given by the Italy-America Society, paid a high compliment to the effectiveness of America's participation in the war. He also expressed the hope, when troops are sent by the Allied high command to give Italy the numerical supremacy, which she must have in order to strike a deadly blow at the heart of her traditional enemy, that those troops would be Americans.

Captain Beviene voiced the general feeling of optimism among the Allies as follows:

"We have absolute faith that the hour of final liberation is about to strike for our brothers and for all those races oppressed by Austrian rule. This faith comes not from our hearts alone, but also from our reason.

American Troops Big Factor.

"The British troops in Palestine," said Captain Beviene, "have crushed the military power of Turkey. The united efforts of the interallied army of Macedonia have driven Bulgaria from the scene as a military and political factor, forcing her to a separate peace. The Western front staggers under the formidable blows hurled at the German army, which the stupendous assistance of the forces of the United States makes possible; the Belgian, the British, the French, but, chief among all, your warriors, with heroic dash take part in the tremendous battle which has no precedent in history.

"All Europe is a field of battle. Of Italy alone there is no fighting. Austria alone at this moment so fateful for the alliance of oppression and crime, is left to herself.

Italy Co-operates in Macedonia.

"First of all, let us remember that the Italian army has energetically co-operated in the action in Macedonia, guaranteeing the rest of the right wing of the Germano-Buglar line.

"But, above all, let us not forget that if this great military event—the annihilation of Bulgaria—has been possible, it is due not alone to the fact that the German army was held back in France by interallied effort, but was held inactive on our front by the fear of an Italian offensive. Had Ludendorff felt himself free from this mortal menace, he would have drawn off from the Austrian front as many divisions as were necessary to support Bulgaria in her crisis and prevent her capitulation.

"But that is not enough. There are, in fact, other considerations which must be taken into account. Italy fights single handed against Austria. Austria, up to today at least, is no longer under any anxiety as to the defense of her frontiers from Russia, from Roumania and from Serbia.

"Austria has a population of fifty millions. Italy of thirty-five; Austria has mobilized about ninety divisions, Italy less than sixty; Italy has in line fifty-four divisions, Austria sixty-seven.

"In France there are fighting Belgians, British, French and Italians, and the splendid, powerful, daily increasing American Army.

Anxious to Advance When Called.

"Italians are proud, and justifiably so, of their contributions to the successes of the Allies. We are proud of America's opinion of us and of our achievements in the war. We want nothing, now that ultimate success is so near, to dull the luster of that good American opinion of Italy. It is for this reason and not as a complaint against the judgment of the Supreme Council at Versailles that I wish to let the American public know the real situation on the Italian front and the reason for the apparent inactivity there when all the other Allied battle fronts are glowing with the brilliant white heat of victorious advances.

"When the time comes in the judgment of that brilliant strategist, General Foch, for the Italian Army to advance we know that then, and not until then, will the absolutely necessary aid be furnished our brave soldiers. Then will that advance be a successful and deadly blow at the heart of Italy's traditional enemy—a blow which we long to strike with a yearning that passes all understanding.

"We believe that the judgments and the action of the Supreme Command at Versailles, together with the marvelous co-operation of the United States, have secured to the Allied cause all its recent successes. These successes fill our hearts with joy and pride as well as confidence in the wisdom of that Council so far as the Italian front is concerned.

"The situation, then, requires that Italy for the present remain inactive, holding out only the menace of her offensive. This is surely no agreeable part to play in this hour when all fight and win. The hearts of all our soldiers are tense with the anxious wish to vie with their heroic brothers in arms of the Allied armies. But war spells self-denial and sacrifices. Today this share is ours, and we bear it without a murmur, as becomes men."

MUST SECURE LICENSE.

The Food Administration has called attention to the fact that shippers of hay, potatoes and apples, except farmers who are marketing products of their own growing, are required to take out a license. Persons shipping these commodities should make application to the License Division of the United States Food Administration, Washington, D. C., for such license. It is important that the shippers of hay, potatoes and apples apply for license in order that those shippers who are guilty of unfair practices may be dealt with under food regulations.

The FIRST TRUCK WE BUILT
8th year-100,000 Miles-Working Every Day

The acid test of a truck is its length of life. Look into the years ahead when buying a truck today. How many years will it work? What is the per cent of depreciation each year? The truck of longest life is lowest priced.

NO Indiana Truck has ever worn out, so far as we know, for our first truck, in its eighth year of service, is still working hard every day. And so far as anyone can tell, it is good for another eight years of hard work. This is astonishing truck performance. But hundreds of similar instances come to us regularly.

Two other Indians have substituted for a railroad for six years between Columbia and Campbellsville, Ky., over mountains and almost impassable roads something every other truck had failed to do. They haul mail, express and passengers. Indiana trucks with five, six and eight-year old records of 100,000 miles and upwards have become common today.

Great fleets of Indians are being purchased today on evidence like the above. The secret back of this wonderful performance is a basic construction policy since we started business, of giving every truck

112% Reserve Strength

This tremendous reserve strength is built into every part of the Indiana, to wit:

THE PRESIDENT'S LAST WORD.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuations and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the allied governments and the President feels it his duty to say that no arrangements can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the United States and the allies in the field. He feels confident that he can safely assume that nothing but this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments."

This statement has no verbal camouflage. There is nothing academic in it. It is so plain and unequivocal that he who runs may read even if he be a German. The pen has joined forces with the sword. Germany now has to deal with the military arms of the allied nations. This last note of the President will be most heartily approved both at home and abroad. So mote it be.

Let Foch do it.

There is much rejoicing over the peace news. It is a victory, a glorious victory for the U. S. but still it strikes us that the Kaiser may consider himself as very lucky if he escapes on the terms reported.

When the story of the United States in the great war is fully told one of the remarkable chapters will tell of the way the country towns went "over the top" in subscribing for the Liberty Loans.

Sometimes the large cities, the centers of wealth, seemed to falter, but the country towns never. This is especially true of Waldo county. And before we forget, let a word be said in praise of the Junior Volunteers. These boys left their homes and with the true spirit of service enlisted for farm work. To many it was new work, but they have made good. As the Junior Volunteers return to their homes they bear the thanks and good wishes of their employers, and here's hoping that the organization may continue into the days of peace.

TIME TO PUT ON BRAKES

With the Passing of His Fiftieth Birthday Man Should Take a Few Moments and Think Hard.

When you have passed, say, your fiftieth birthday anniversary, that foxy old gent, Mr. Time, puts the skids under you and greases them good and plenty.

It is appalling, then, how quickly the days and the weeks and the months pass. You start in on Monday morning, and before you know it, it is Saturday night again. Even the years slip by as though you were riding through life on a roller coaster.

The thing to do then, brother, is to put on the brakes. Slow up and get a little more enjoyment out of the scenery.

Some men think that just the other way is the best method to adopt, but we are convinced that they are making a mistake. Their idea is that the thing to do when one grows gray and bald is to keep up with the procession, wear pinch-back clothes, silk socks and a sailor hat with a polka dot band.

But, if you do that, all you achieve is an acceleration of the pace. It is a pathetic form of camouflage that deceives no one, and yourself least of all. When you are fifty and over, you know it, and everyone else knows it.

When a man is fifty he should have a home in the country, or at least out of the town. He should awake before dawn and say good morning to the sun, slip his glass of water deliberately instead of gulping it down, move serenely, take his time.

When night comes he should be able to say, "Well, this has been a fine, long day," instead of saying, "For the love of Mike, where has this day gone to?"

Then, when old age comes, you will be able to say with the sage: "Old age is the night of life, but is the night not beautiful with stars?"—Los Angeles Times.

Real "Lucky Bone."

One of the most precious possessions of an officer in England, during a recent short leave, is an ordinary wishbone which he has had mounted in gold and carries about with him as a mascot, it having already, he avers, once saved his life.

It appears that while near the front line in France he was enjoying a rare meal of doubtful chicken with a couple of brother officers, and was just about to try conclusions with the wishbone with his opposite comrade when it slipped from his plate and dropped under the heavy oak table the three had managed to secure from a ruined farmhouse for their barn billet.

No sooner had the Birmingham man got under the table to grope for the bone than the barn was reduced to debris by a couple of direct hits from enemy airplanes.

The other two officers were killed outright, but the stout table saved the third from any material injury. The wishbone was firmly clasped in his right hand when he was dug out of the ruins.

Hit Profiteers in Meat.

Queensland, New South Wales, has found a way to get cheap meat. Its policy, inaugurated by the Queensland labor government in November, 1915, is now past the experimental stage and working well. Convinced that exploitation was going on "on a grand scale," and finding every attempt at price restriction met with bitter complaints from dealers, the government decided to test the situation itself, and set up state butcher shops. After two years and a half of operation, reports the staff correspondent of the Montreal Star at Queensland, the price of meat, which had increased 100 per cent in war time, under private control has been brought down "to a figure equal to what it was before the war, plus a difference due to legitimate causes, such as droughts." Beef fell nine cents a pound when the first state shop was opened.

Can Yuh Blame Him?

"Say, George, dear, I'd like to ask you a very important question, if you are not too busy," remarked the wife of his bosom timidly during the period in the evening when George has his nose buried in the paper. George heeded her not. She repeated the question.

"Well, what is it?" he snarled in the sharp, decisive manner so becoming in husbands.

"Why, uh—I was just going to ask you if you thought—and here wife had to stop to giggle—if you thought the crews in those Hun U-boats speak low German, and the aviators high—"

But George snorted disgustedly and went back to feasting his eyes reading about the high cost of living.

Urges Slaying of Bears.

Hundreds of trees in the northwest, including Douglas fir, white fir and western white pine—the wood of all of which is used more or less in airplane construction—have been seriously damaged by bears peeling the bark, according to H. J. Liepel, forest ranger. Liepel says about 100 trees in the square mile have been peeled. He invites hunters to kill the bears as a patriotic move.

"What Becomes of All the Old Trucks."

B. O. Norton, local distributor for Indiana Trucks discovered the answer to the question of "What Becomes of All the Old Trucks." In news he received today that the first Indiana Truck built eight years ago is still in service, working hard every day. Apparently, Indians don't wear out at all.

"A search of the truck records revealed the fact that eight years ago when the Indiana people had built their first truck, they gave it rigorous engineering tests that covered the entire United States. The engineers, it is said, endeavored to break her to pieces," and tried to do it under every climatic and road conditions to be found.

"After engineering research on the truck, which proved the Indiana to be a wonder, it was used as a demonstrator all over the United States, making several pilgrimages in the east, going from New York to Boston and to other New England points, and then going West," said Mr. B. O. Norton.

"Finally after much travelling and road work, always carrying its capacity load or better, it went back to its home, Marion, Indiana. Almost immediately it was sold to the proprietor of a chain of home furnishing stores at Gas City, Indiana, near Marion.

"The investigator who had scoured through the records for the history of the first truck was informed by O. Jordan, Proprietor of the stores, that the truck had probably been run upwards of 100,000 miles and that the work it had to do was hard as its loads are large and the roads which it covers are bad. It goes out in the country and takes heavy loads of furniture.

"It always gets there and back even in its eighth year, and as near as any one can tell is good for another eight years.

"This is astonishing evidence of the economy of Indiana Trucks," continued Mr. B. O. Norton. Think of it! The working life of a horse is but three years, the depreciation of a horse therefore is 33 1/3 per cent. While this particular truck if you consider it will not work another day, is only 65 cents a working day, probably less if you figure 300 days a year. As near as we can tell, no Indiana Truck has ever worn out.

ALL SORTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. The sugar beet crop of the United States for this year shows an estimated increase of 378,681 tons over that of 1917, but the general condition of the crop was below that of the ten years average, the federal food board announced here today. The estimate for 1918 is 6,359,000 tons compared with 5,980,379 last year. The crop condition is 85.6 whereas the average is 91.

German Casualties in France.

Twenty bucketsful of identification tags were taken from the German dead who fell in the first week's fighting of the German drive which opened on March 21, 1918, according to a press report from Holland. These identification disks are about the size of an American quarter, and it is estimated that there must have been 370,000 in this one shipment. The German casualties of the first three weeks of the drive were estimated at 500,000. By the end of the first week in September the total German casualties in 1918, as estimated from the most reliable reports obtainable, had grown to more than a million, killed, wounded and prisoners.

Congressman Cox is Critical.

Representative Cox, Democrat, of Indiana, is a plain-spoken man. He cannot understand, he says, why his party is protecting the southern cotton planters at the expense of the northern buyers of cotton goods and all other buyers of cotton goods, while at the same time the administration fixes the price of the northern farmer's wheat and everybody's sugar and also fails to fix the prices of the farm implements the northern farmer must buy. He is not opposed to price-fixing of necessities, he says, but on the contrary thinks there may be no other way out of it in war time, but he is not in favor of sectional price-fixing.—Muncie, Ind., Press.

Y. W. C. A. Work in America.

When the War Department began to get the men of the country ready for war plans were laid without much thought of the women, but a stream of women started coming to the cantonments with no provision made for them, though many came from distances too far away to return at once. The Government needed the women's help and the Y. W. C. A. was found to be the only organization equipped for the work. Out of this grew the hostess house of the Y. W. C. A. of which there are now 92 with more being erected.

There will be no immunity for those who appeared as witnesses before the Judge Hughes aircraft investigating committee. Mr. Hughes and his associates hold that the mere fact that persons have supplied the committee with evidence does not release them from prosecution if the facts developed warrant action.

With the return tomorrow of Mr. Hughes it is expected rapid progress will be made on the report which the committee is to make to the President. There is much speculation as to whether or not the findings of the committee will be given to the public after they have been reviewed by the President.

Some members contend that instead of disclosing the evidence gathered during the months of inquiry it would be best to start criminal proceedings against those involved. But the President will determine the course to be followed.

Let no guilty man escape law and deserved punishment and we will wait for the report.

UNCLE SAM'S ADVICE ON FLU

LATEST WORD ON SUBJECT.

Epidemic Probably Not Spanish in Origin—Germ Still Unknown—People Should Guard Against "Droplet Infection"—Surgeon General Blue Makes Authoritative Statement.

Washington, D. C., (Special).—Although King Alfonso of Spain was one of the victims of the influenza epidemic in 1883 and again this summer, Spanish authorities repudiate any claim to influenza as a "Spanish" disease. If the people of this country do not take care the epidemic will become so widespread throughout the United States that soon we shall hear the disease called "American" influenza.

In response to a request for definite information concerning Spanish influenza, Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the U. S. Public Health Service has authorized the following official interview:

What is Spanish influenza? Is it something new? Does it come from Spain?

"The disease now occurring in this country and called 'Spanish influenza' resembles a very contagious kind of 'cold,' accompanied by fever, pains

Coughs and Sneezes Spread Diseases

As Dangerous as Poison Gas Shells

In the head, eyes, ears, back or other parts of the body and a feeling of severe sickness. In most of the cases the symptoms disappear after three or four days, the patient then rapidly recovering. Some of the patients, however, develop pneumonia, or inflammation of the ear, or meningitis, and many of these complicated cases die. Whether this so-called 'Spanish' influenza is identical with the epidemics of influenza of earlier years is not yet known.

"Epidemics of influenza have visited this country since 1647. It is interesting to know that this first epidemic was brought here from Valencia, Spain. Since that time there have been numerous epidemics of the disease. In 1889 and 1890 an epidemic of influenza, starting somewhere in the Orient, spread first to Russia and thence over practically the entire civilized world. Three years later there was another flare-up of the disease. Both times the epidemic spread widely over the United States.

"Although the present epidemic is called 'Spanish influenza' there is no reason to believe that it originated in Spain. Some writers who have studied the question believe that the epidemic came from the Orient and they call attention to the fact that the Germans mention the disease as occurring along the eastern front in the summer and fall of 1917."

How can "Spanish influenza" be recognized?

"There is as yet no certain way in which a single case of 'Spanish influenza' can be recognized. On the other hand, recognition is easy where there is a group of cases. In contrast to the outbreaks of ordinary coughs and colds, which usually occur in the cold months, epidemics of influenza may occur at any season of the year. Thus the present epidemic raged most intensely in Europe in May, June and July. Moreover, in the case of ordinary colds, the general symptoms (fever, pain, depression) are by no means as severe or as sudden in their onset as they are in influenza. Finally, ordinary colds do not spread through the community so rapidly or so extensively as does influenza.

"In most cases a person taken sick with influenza feels sick rather suddenly. He feels weak, has pains in the eyes, ears, head or back, and may be sore all over. Many patients feel dizzy, some vomit. Most of the patients complain of feeling chilly, and with this comes a fever in which the temperature rises to 100 to 104. In most cases the pulse remains relatively slow.

"In appearance one is struck by the fact that the patient looks sick. His eyes and the inner side of his eyelids may be slightly 'bloodshot,' or 'congested,' as the doctors say. There may be running from the nose, or there may be some cough. These signs of a cold may not be marked; nevertheless the patient looks and feels very sick.

"In addition to the appearance and the symptoms already described, examination of the patient's blood may aid the physician in recognizing 'Spanish influenza,' for it has been found

WOMEN TORTURED

Suffer terribly with corns because of high heels, but why care now.

Women wear high heels which buckle up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority.

Corns can easily be lifted out with the fingers if you will get from any drug store a quarter of an ounce of a drug called freezezone. This is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. You simply apply a few that in this disease the number of white corpuscles shows little or no increase above the normal. It is possible that the laboratory investigations now being made through the National Research Council and the United States Hygienic Laboratory will furnish a more certain way in which individual cases of this disease can be recognized."

What is the course of the disease?

Do people die of it?

"Ordinarily, the fever lasts from three to four days and the patient recovers. But while the proportion of deaths in the present epidemic has generally been low, in some places the outbreak has been severe and deaths have been numerous. When death occurs it is usually the result of a complication."

What causes the disease and how is it spread?

"Bacteriologists who have studied influenza epidemics in the past have found in many of the cases a very small rod-shaped germ called, after its discoverer, Pfeiffer's bacillus. In other cases of apparently the same kind of disease there were found pneumococci, the germs of lobar pneumonia. Still others have been caused by streptococci, and by others germs with long names."

"No matter what particular kind of germ causes the epidemic, it is now believed that influenza is always spread from person to person, the germs being carried with the air along with the very small droplets of mucus, expelled by coughing or sneezing, or by talking, and the like by one who already has the germs of the disease. They may also be carried about in the air in the form of dust coming from dried mucus, from coughing and sneezing, or from careless people who spit on the floor and on the sidewalk. As in most other catching diseases, a person who has only a mild attack of the disease himself may give a very severe attack to others."

What should be done by those who catch the disease?

"It is very important that every person who becomes sick with influenza should go home at once and go to bed. This will help keep away dangerous complications and will, at the same time, keep the patient from scattering the disease far and wide. It is highly desirable that no one be allowed to sleep in the same room with the patient. In fact, no one but the nurse should be allowed in the room.

"If there is cough and sputum or running of the eyes and nose, care should be taken that all such discharges are collected on bits of gauze or rag or paper napkins and burned. If the patient complains of fever and headache, he should be given water to drink, a cold compress to the forehead and a light sponge. Only such medicine should be given as is prescribed by the doctor. It is foolish to ask the druggist to prescribe and may be dangerous to take the so-called 'safe, sure and harmless' remedies advertised by patent medicine manufacturers.

"If the patient is so situated that he can be attended only by some one who must also look after others in the family, it is advisable that such attendant wear a wrapper, apron or gown over the ordinary house clothes while in the sick room and slip this off when leaving to look after the others.

"Nurses and attendants will do well to guard against breathing in dangerous disease germs by wearing a simple fold of gauze or mask while near the patient."

Will a person who has had influenza before catch the disease again?

"It is well known that an attack of measles or scarlet fever or smallpox usually protects a person against another attack of the same disease. This appears not to be true of 'Spanish influenza.' According to newspaper reports the King of Spain suffered an attack of influenza during the epidemic thirty years ago, and was again stricken during the recent outbreak in Spain."

How can one guard against influenza?

"In guarding against disease of all kinds, it is important that the body be kept strong and able to fight off disease germs. This can be done by having a proper proportion of work, play and rest, by keeping the body well clothed, and by eating sufficient wholesome and properly selected food. In connection with diet, it is well to remember that milk is one of the best all-around foods obtainable for adults as well as children. So far as a disease like influenza is concerned, health authorities everywhere recognize the very close relation between its spread and overcrowded homes. While it is not always possible, especially in times like the present, to avoid such overcrowding, people should consider the health danger and make every effort to reduce the home overcrowding to a minimum. The value of fresh air through open windows cannot be over emphasized.

"When crowding is unavoidable, as in street cars, care should be taken to keep the face so turned as not to inhale directly the air breathed out by another person.

"It is especially important to beware of the person who coughs or sneezes without covering his mouth and nose. It also follows that one should keep out of crowds and stuffy places as much as possible, keep homes, offices and workshops well aired, spend some time out of doors each day, walk to work if at all practical—in short, make every possible effort to breathe as much pure air as possible.

"In all health matters follow the advice of your doctor and obey the regulations of your local and state health officers."

"Cover up each cough and sneeze, if you don't you'll spread disease."

drops directly upon the tender, aching corn or callus. The soreness is relieved at once and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts out without one particle of pain.

This freezezone is a sticky substance which dries in a moment. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Tell your wife about this.

The October price of hogs at Chicago has been set by the Food Administration at $18. Mr. Hoover estimates that an additional billion pounds of hog products will be required for 1919.

FARMERS WILL NOT FAIL IN THIS LOAN.

Secretary Houston Says Each Must Feel Personal Responsibility.

Secretary D. F. Houston of the Dept. of Agriculture has sent this message to the American farmer:—"The 4th Liberty Loan will not fail for lack of support of American farmers."

"That is the answer I am giving to those who ask me what the response of the American farmer will be in making this confident assertion in the face of the fact that the American people are being asked to make a colossal contribution to Liberty—six billion dollars."

"American farmers have demonstrated their patriotic support of the nation's great war loans. One of the most striking features of the 3rd Liberty Loan was the support given it by the farming and rural population. Not only did farmers purchase liberally of the bonds, but the rural communities as a rule, were more prompt in completing their quotas of the loan than the larger cities. More than 20,000 communities in the U. S. subscribed or over subscribed their quotas. Many of them on the first day of the campaign. The majority of these were not cities, but country districts."

"But we have now a greater effort to make, and the responsibility is more directly than ever upon the individual farmer. The conditions throughout the country, particularly in New England, make it impossible to go to the farmer. It is for him to act with full knowledge of the situation that confronts the nation. Our largest loan has been launched. It will tax our determination to defend our liberty and our Republic at all costs. Our armies in the field are fighting victoriously. The forces at home are now in an offensive that must not fail. 'Without stint or limit' let us buy Liberty bonds that we may attain our objective—a righteous and lasting world peace."

"DINNA FRET"

Is the road very dreary?

Patience yet!
Rest will be sweeter if thou art weary.
And after the night comes the morning cheer.

Then bide a wee and dinna fret.
The clouds have a silver lining.
Don't forget;
And though he's hidden, still the sun is shining;
Courage! Instead of tears and sad repining
Just bide a wee, and dinna fret.

Grief, sharper sting doth borrow
From regret;
But yesterday is gone, and shall its sorrow
Unfit us for the present and the morrow?

Nay, bide a wee, and dinna fret.

VICTORY BREAD.

Herbert Hoover, U. S. Food Administrator, says: "It is essential to the success of our war effort, to the feeding of our army and the European peoples, and the accumulation of a surplus of wheat to guard against crop disaster, that the Allied people use 20 per cent of the substitute cereals in all wheat bread."

"The American people will cheerfully undertake the same effort in this matter which the people of England, France and Italy are undertaking. The only method of uniformity in this regard is to request all of our people to go without pure wheat bread during the war. The same uniform result cannot be accomplished by the use of cereals in other forms, and we have pledged ourselves to the peoples by whose sides we are fighting that these substitutions will be made in all of the bread which is baked, both in bakeries and at home."

Miss Henrietta Gilkey left Thursday for Hampden, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gross until the opening of the Academy.

In New York an "open" sneeze or cough costs a fine of $50.00. The possibility of infection is as much an offense in Searsport.

Miss Ethel M. Nichols, teacher in the Commercial Department of the Bangor High School, reached home Monday and will be the guest of her parents until the reopening of the city schools.

At the annual meeting of the Guild of the First Cong'l Church the following officers were elected: Pres., William N. Parse; vice presidents, Mrs. B. F. Colcord and Mrs. Henrietta Young; secretary and treasurer, Miss Harriette Erskine; chairman of entertainment com., Miss Harriet Roulstone. Weekly meetings will not be held, but occasional social gatherings will keep the organization efficient.

Public gatherings are still forbidden by the order of the Board of Health and the cooperation of the public is doing much to check the threatened epidemic. A large poster warning people of the danger of waiting about the postoffice has prevented the usual mail time crowd. In spite of these precautions many are ill or convalescing from influenza. Because of naturally good health conditions the disease has appeared in a comparatively mild form. This, however, does not permit any lack of vigilance.

James Carr, oldest son of Hervey and Addie Jacobs Carr, died at Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Tuesday, Oct. 8th, after a short illness with influenza. He was born in Searsport where he attended the public schools. During the past year he has been employed at Dark Harbor. Funeral services were conducted and interment made at Islesboro. No package can be mailed later than November 25th.

OBITUARY. The death of James H. Carr, employed as driver for Malcolm McCloud and Pendleton Bros. Livery of Islesboro, brings a great shock to his many friends. He was born in Searsport and always lived there until he came to Islesboro six years ago. Mr. Carr would have been 26 years old the 23rd of this month had he lived. He was married two years ago in Searsport to Miss Zama Yeaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yeaton of Islesboro. His death occurred in Islesboro Oct. 8th. He leaves to mourn his loss a faithful and most devoted wife, his mother and father, three brothers and one sister. He was first taken sick with the prevailing disease which developed into pneumonia. Mr. Carr was of a retiring disposition, but built up a strong character by his honesty and faithfulness in the discharge of all his duties. He was highly regarded by his employers and summer people for his careful driving and painstaking efforts to please. His last expressed wish, eloquent in spirit, was that if by any word or act of his he had wounded the feelings of any one he might forgive him. The sunbeam of hope lightened up his face as his spirit passed away from all earthly scenes.

EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS.

Even in the exchange of prisoners Germany is looting Russia. In return for physically fit German prisoners they are sending back Russian soldiers who are pitiable wrecks of humanity.

"Germany has a committee of 500 men here choosing their own prisoners for exchange," writes a Y. W. C. A. secretary from Russia where she is engaged in Blue Triangle Club and Welfare work for Russian girls. "They choose only the most fit, yet they will not grant this privilege of selection to the Russians, so the exchange is unfair."

"The condition of the exchanged Russian soldier is appalling. They are skeletons and physical wrecks, over seventy per cent dying of tuberculosis."

"These poor fellows are stunned by the changed conditions in Russia. How they are scorning Russia for not doing her part. And they want to go back and fight Germany. Their return is doing much to arouse the Russians once more to action."

MRS. HORACE N. WOODBURY.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the family home in Bangor. Sympathy is extended to the sorrowing family in their irreparable loss by all friends of Miss Gerrity and her parents in this village.

SAVE YOURSELF FROM INFLUENZA

If you are "run down" or out of condition, if sluggish bowels have allowed poisons and impurities to accumulate in your system you are certain to suffer severely with the grip. Dr. True's Elixir, the famous household remedy of 67 years' reputation, will ward off the grip entirely or make an attack light and easily thrown off. Why? Because Dr. True's Elixir is a vegetable tonic that puts the system in good condition, prevents and relieves constipation, stimulates the appetite and strengthens the digestive powers. It can do no harm because it contains no mineral drugs. All purely vegetable. A tonic—not a stimulant. No reaction. Ask your druggist for it, or write Dr. J. F. True & Co., Auburn, Me.

THE AMERICAN Y. W. C. A.

An American woman, Miss Harriet Taylor, is heading nearly fifty different American social centers in France. These have more than a hundred workers already there and others authorized and waiting to sail. All these centers are marked with the Blue Triangle, the insignia of the American Y. W. C. A.

Miss Taylor was head of the foreign department of the National Y. W. C. A. until she left for this work.

Since war was declared by this country, the Y. W. C. A. has opened twelve hostess houses for American Signal Corps women and other American women working in France; fifteen foyers or social centers for French girls who are employed in Ministry of War offices in Paris and in munition factories of other cities, sixteen huts for nurses at many American Base Hospitals and five recreation parks for French girl workers.

Miss Taylor was formerly of Salisbury, N. Y., and for many years a teacher in Newburgh, N. Y.

JOHN FRASER.

John Fraser of this city died in Bath Wednesday night, Oct. 9th, aged about 68 years. He had been employed in that city only a short time and his death was caused by influenza. He was a former resident of Pictou, N. S., and was of Scotch parentage. He has two brothers and one sister now living in Nova Scotia, and he went there a short time ago to make his home, but preferred Maine and returned here. He enjoyed the respect of all who knew him and was a very retiring, honest man. He was for many years a regular attendant at the Baptist church. He was twice married and both wives are deceased. He married when a young man Miss Ida Leathers and later Miss Phoebe Clements. One daughter by the first marriage survives him, Ida, the wife of William H. Bray of this city. Mr. Fraser was a member of the Tarratine Tribe of Red Men. His remains were taken Friday to Brooks, where the funeral was held and the interment made.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION FOR YOUTHFUL CANNERS.

Arrangements have been completed whereby one girl or boy in each county will be fortunate enough to secure a National Capital Prize Certificate and a book full of Thrift Stamps for excellence on canning vegetables. Those eligible to compete for the prize "must be members of a Canning Club" is the agreement between the National War Garden Commission and State Leader Boys' and Girls' Clubs.

The details of the contest are as follows: Each contestant must exhibit five pint jars of different vegetables at their County Contest. This exhibit is to be part of the regular number of ten jars necessary to exhibit for their regular club prize. The one difference is that the five jars of vegetables must have a special label on them which label is furnished free upon request of the Local Leader of the club to the State Leader of Boys' and Girls' Clubs.

Maine is fortunate to secure such a good number of certificates and thrift stamp prizes. It is expected that several hundred girls and boys will be in line competing for these prizes in order to have the opportunity to say they are the only one in their county who can produce a certificate from Washington in recognition of the excellence of their work.

Merchant Shipping After the War.

Edward N. Hurley, Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, says that there will be something like 25,000,000 tons of merchant shipping to be employed within the next two years, and the shipping board is already looking around for cargoes, both in this country and abroad. In order to enlighten the vague understanding of people who do not make measurements in ship tonnage, Mr. Hurley has very kindly explained that 25,000,000 tons of merchant shipping would represent in a single voyage all the livestock, dressed meats, packing house products, poultry, game, fish, wool, hides and leather, carry over our railroads in one year. In less than five trips his ships would carry our whole yearly railroad haul of grain, flour, cotton, hay, fruit, vegetables and other farm products; and in three and one-half trips, all our lumber; in seven trips all our manufactured goods; sixteen trips, all our coal and coke.
